
Colloquium Guardianship before, during, and after a criminal event

Tuesday 1 October | 14.30 – 17.00 am | Colloquium room NSCR

On Wednesday 2 October, 11.45 am at the VU Aula, Maud van Bavel will defend her PhD thesis Active guardianship, its agents and the effects to offender behaviour. As a prelude, the NVC, the VU Department of Criminology and the NSCR are jointly organising a colloquium on guardianship with ample room for discussion.

Admittance is free, but the number of places is limited. Please announce your attendance at secretariaat@nscr.nl.

Program

- 14.15 Coffee & tea
- 14.30 Henk Elffers (VU, NSCR): A short refresher on guardianship before, during and after an event
- 14:45 Iris van Sintemaartensdijk (VU): Experimental research into how guardianship influences burglars before a criminal event
- 15.10 Peter Ejbye-Ernst (NSCR): Observing guardianship during public violence events
- 15.35 Break
- 15.50 Clarissa Meerts (VU): After-the-fact guardianship in an organisational context: internal investigations into employee misbehaviour
- 16.15 Danielle Reynald (Griffith): Guardianship looks very different for different type of offences
- 16.40 General discussion, chaired by Henk Elffers
- 17.00 Drinks